Presbyterian Children's Village promotes Amy Brinkley and Patrick Oleskey

(Rosemont, PA) Presbyterian Children's Village is pleased to announce the promotion of Amy Brinkley to Senior Director of Residential Services and Patrick Oleskey to Senior Director of Community Programs. Brinkley has been the Clinical Director of the Adolescent Residential Treatment Facility as well as a Therapist and a Treatment Team Leader. She will be overseeing the Residential Treatment Program and Semi Independent Living Program at the Rosemont campus and will help develop new opportunities on the Rosemont campus. Oleskey has been the Director of Independent Living and Behavioral Health Services. He has worked in the Village Independent Living Program and brings experience in Behavioral Health Services and in the Sanctuary Model of Trauma Informed Care as well. He will be overseeing current community based programs and help develop new opportunities at the Southwest Philadelphia campus.

Prior to arriving at PCV in 1996, Brinkley worked as a Clinical Social Work Intern at the Veterans Administration Medical Center, Coatesville, PA. She received her undergraduate education from Kent State University and her Master of Social Services with a concentration in Clinical Practice with Individuals, Families, and Groups from Bryn Mawr College.

Prior to arriving at PCV in 2008, Oleskey worked for Andrus Children's Center as therapist, intern, case manager, and project coordinator for the PA Sanctuary Project. He received his undergraduate education at Amherst College and his Masters in Social Work from New York University.

Founded as an orphanage in 1877, Presbyterian Children's Village today is a non-profit corporation dedicated to the healing of the spirits of children, families and communities broken by violence, addiction, poverty, mental illness, racism and other serious societal problems. The Village serves more than 5,100 children each year in the greater Philadelphia area.
